

ISO 9001:2008 FAQs

1. I am an existing 9001:2000 client, how do I transition to ISO 9001:2008?

See website (www.uk.sgs.com/9001transition)

2. From where can we buy a copy of ISO 9001:2008?

The Standard is available from ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) or from BSI in the UK.

3. Is there a document available which outlines only the changes and easily available?

Yes. Appendix B in ISO 9001:2008 shows only the changes.

4. Are the requirements in ISO 9004:2000 incorporated into the 2008 standard?

ISO 9004, Guidelines for Performance Improvement, is planned to be issued in 2009.

5. For a company that has an effective and compliant system to ISO 9001:2000, will the transition audit to the 2008 version, just be a formality?

No audit is “just a formality”. You will need to ensure that your QMS meets the requirements of ISO 9001:2008.

6. How does ISO 9001:2008 impact on related standards (e.g. AS9100, ISO 13485)?

These standards remain aligned with 9001:2000 at present, so there is no impact.

If you have any questions in relation to your specific circumstances, please discuss these with your Auditor.
